

Prison Reading Groups
25 years
1999-2024

Book Talk

Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children

by Ransom Riggs

Number of pages: 370

Following a trail of clues, sixteen-year-old Jacob Portman travels to a remote island in Wales to uncover the truth behind his late grandfather's mysterious stories. There, he discovers an abandoned orphanage, a collection of peculiar vintage photographs and a hidden world of children with extraordinary abilities, frozen in time and protected by the mysterious Miss Peregrine. As Jacob investigates, he begins to unravel a fantastical mystery that connects him to his grandfather's past and reveals a secret world existing just beyond ordinary reality...

We recommend this book if you enjoyed Harry Potter by J.K. Rowling, or The Hunger Games by Suzanne Collins.

Discussion Questions:

1. What do you think was the point of Jacob's transformation throughout the story?

2. Who do you think is the most intriguing child and why?

